The RCB franchise has been given the title of underachievers by the fans because they have not been able to win consistently in IPL and haven't won any IPL title so far. Royal Challengers enjoy the home advantage at the M. Chinnaswamy Stadium.

The royal challengers Bangalore 2021 squad for IPL 2021 has made 13 retentions from IPL 2019 squad which one would think are too many considering they came last in IPL 2019 edition but this is the way RCB management like to take things forward and they are giving the same players confidence to do well in IPL 2021. Last year, SRH missed David Warner a lot after his ban from CSA for cheating saga but for this year Warner is making a comeback to the squad and he is currently in spectacular form in shorter format which will be very beneficial for ipl 2021 sunrisers hyderabad full team to increase their chances to qualify for the IPL 2021 Final. Among, sunrisers hyderabad 2021 retained players namely Kane Williamson, David Warner, Rashid Khan, Mohammad Nabi, and Jonny Bairstow are some of the top international stars who are the key players when they play from the national side so on paper SRH is a team to look for and they are a strong side to beat. The management of SRH in auctions went for less known players and saved some money from their allocated purse which is an interesting strategy and can pay up fruits they were looking for. As per our analysis we believe SRH will qualify for the play-offs in IPL 2021 and they are a strong contender for the IPL 2021 final.
